The Dolphin Company was recognized once again for its animal welfare standards

Last March, during the annual conference of the International Marine Animal Trainers' Association (IMATA), held in collaboration with the Animal Behavior Management Alliance (ABMA), The Dolphin Company received the first place in the Educational Impact category for its One Glide Ahead presentation. This was a project from Zoomarine in Italy, where for the first time a flying squirrel, or sugar glider (Petaurus breviceps), voluntarily allowed itself to be X-rayed.

Likewise, The Dolphin Company made a presentation on the research and breakthroughs made for the preservation of the Caribbean Manatee. Throughout its history, it has attended the birth of 11 manatees in its care through the 'Miracle' reproduction program. They also talked about the inclusion initiatives implemented in the company's Parks and Habitats, as well as the environmental education events that have become inclusive through the use of Braille material and sign language interpreters.

The Dolphin Company has participated for more than twenty years in this conference and has obtained 22 awards in categories, such as training, education, medical care, and conservation, among others.

The Dolphin Company developed an event to commemorate Environmental Education Day

On January 26th, to commemorate Environmental Education Day, The Dolphin Company held a free event, with the presentation of the puppet plays 'Mother Nature' and 'The Ocean Adventures of Pinni, Tursi and Mydas'. This was an inclusive event that gathered around 600 and 700 children, including some with visual or hearing disabilities, from more than ten different schools in Playa del Carmen, in Quintana Roo, Mexico.

This way, The Dolphin Company continues its mission of promoting environmental education and being inclusive.

The Dolphin Company helps animals in wildlife

Aquarium, our Park in Mar del Plata, Argentina, reintegrated three Sea Lions, who were cared for and rehabilitated by a team of Specialists from the Marine Fauna Rehabilitation Center (CRFM). The Specialists commented that their treatment was complex due to their young age, however, the specimens responded satisfactorily and were successfully reinstated to their habitat.

The Veterinary team of our Miami Seaquarium Park successfully performed cataract surgery on Ocean, the Seal, which continues its recovery under the care of Specialists. They also reinstated a Sea Turtle and a Manatee, after receiving care from Specialists and Veterinarians.

The Gulf World Marine Institute at our Gulf World Park in Panama Beach, Florida, reintegrated three Sea Turtles, after having been rehabilitated by our Specialists.

Our team of Professionals is committed to all species of animals and they work with great passion and dedication for the conservation and care of the environment.

Selva Mágica launched a promotion to donate more than three tons of food

Selva Mágica, our amusement park in Jalisco, Mexico, carried out a promotion through which it collected more than three tons of food such as chickpeas, beans, rice, and corn to donate to government social assistance institutions.

The initiative, which lasted from November to January, offered visitors a 2x1 promotion on the purchase of the platinum pass, which includes more than 20 attractions in the park, by presenting 1 kilo of food at the ticket offices.

With these actions, Selva Mágica continues as an excellent fun alternative for the whole family, which in turn is committed to Social Responsibility and the actions it can take to contribute to its community.
